Art 165 does not specify the maximum amount of leave ~~taken~~ required for in such cases. The G.G. of Edn reports that the medical officer was of opinion that a period of 8 days was absolutely necessary for the teacher to procure the certificate.

The corresponding article to 165 of the 3rd Edn is 176 A of the 2nd Edition the copy of which is put up. Art 176 A seems to have been introduced according to Progs No. 5205-39/R-549 dated 10-9-1900 as noted in the margin of that article. The monthly volumes and the index thereto for that year were looked into and the number of the order was not found. Neither the 'In' register of this office nor the 'Issue' Register of the Comptroller's office gives any clue to the tracing up of the file. The General Records too was not able to trace the file. Please see the remarks slips placed below.

RR 20.2.12. I think that article 165 M.S.R. is explicit enough. Especially the last line - "the leave thus passed will be treated as Casual leave entailing forfeiture of pay". The period is unreasonable & exceeds 5 days it has still to be treated as Casual leave special as in the case of Hague detachment. To put the limitations of Art 163 on Art 165 does not seem to be correct. The Govt may be asked to treat the whole period as Casual leave - Please put up a draft enable him to attend the medical exn. at Kolar for State Life Insurance exceeds the maximum period of casual leave admissible under art 163 MSR

Order thereon. No Fl. 35 96-7 dt 6-3-12

Under the provisions of art 165 MSR, the period during which Cf. Krishnamachar was actually occupied with the Medical examination at Kolar in connection with his Life Insurance should be treated as Casual Leave, not entailing forfeiture of pay. The fact that the period exceeded the limit prescribed for casual leave is immaterial if it was, as a matter of fact, actually required. Govt are of opinion that, in these circumstances, it is incorrect to limit the application of the provision contained in art 165 MSR by that contained in art 163
